...planting the seeds of education

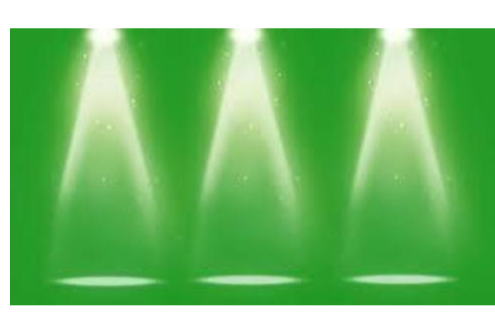

In response to increased restrictions communicated by both Virginia Tech and Carilion, we will be temporarily moving to a virtual venue for our upcoming TEACH sessions. Please see more information below and stay tuned!

In Case You Missed It: Virtual Education Day Wrap-up!

Our first virtual (but sixth annual) TEACH Education Day “Zoom”-ed by right before our eyes! Last week our virtual community came together to collaborate, learn, and recognize the outstanding educators throughout our organization! Dr. Geoff Talmon facilitated an enlightening keynote on teaching and connecting with Gen Z learners. His practical presentation provided a comparison of Gen Z and Millennial learner preferences, instructional strategies useful for Gen Z learners, and reminded us that the next generation of learners (filled with many unknowns) is right around the corner. Individuals from across the organization came together for our virtual Posters, Recognition, and Awards event to view our 16 e-posters and hear from our 5 selected facilitated poster authors. Additionally, we announced the 7 amazing faculty members selected this year for our 2020 TEACH Awards (6 annual + 1 bonus award!). To see what you missed or to revisit presentations from the day, visit our TEACH website. As always, we thank you all for participating. Your contributions to this Academy and our greater learning community are integral to our success!

Faculty Spotlight: Learn more about our 2020 TEACH Award Winners!

At this year’s TEACH Education Day Posters, Recognition, and Awards event, 7 well deserving faculty members received the honor of being our 2020 TEACH Award Winners. The TEACH Awards are intended to provide a formal and tangible means to recognize our exceptional educators. Faculty, learners, and staff from across the health system submitted meaningful evidence to support the nominations of a diverse group of educators for these awards. Please join us in congratulating the winners of our 2020 TEACH Awards!

Educator Resources:

- Med Ed Briefs: Teaching & Learning in Medicine has collaborated with the Alliance for Clinical Education Collaboration to create Med Ed Briefs. Med Ed Briefs are pulled from existing articles and contain brief summaries that incorporate specific ideas about how the work can be applied. This initiative is intended to support the busy medical educator struggling to keep up with the literature. The very first Med Ed Brief is online now courtesy of Scott Graziano from the Association of Professors of Gynecology and Obstetrics. To read the brief, click here.
- SGEA Newsletter Teaching Tip: Jean Bailey, PhD (Associate Dean for Faculty Development and Associate Professor at Virginia Commonwealth University School of Medicine) recently shared some tips in the SGEA Newsletter for faculty as they begin the Fall semester. Click here to read some of the practical tips from Dr. Bailey on navigating the virtual environment and how to apply similar approaches to orienting new faculty.
- Free Access to Academic Medicine Articles Related to COVID-19: Academic Medicine is offering free access to articles which explore the COVID-19 pandemic, its impact on medical education, and medical education’s response to it, from multiple perspectives. The collection is updated regularly as new articles are published. Read the complete collection here.

Educator Opportunities: Scholarship and funding opportunities available!

2021 IAMSE Annual Meeting: Call for Poster & Oral Abstracts Due December 1 - The International Association of Medical Science Educators (IAMSE) is pleased to announce the call for abstracts for Oral and Poster presentations for the 25th Annual IAMSE Conference to be held at the JW Marriott Cancun Resort & Spa in Cancun, Mexico from June 12-15, 2021.
